Routine Vision Exams vs. Medical Eye Visits

Routine eye exams (well-vision eye exams) are usually part of a vision plan, which is a separate benefit from your medical insurance plan. A routine eye exam provides a screening of eye health, but assumes the eyes are healthy and only suffer from vision problems such as nearsightedness, farsightedness, etc.

Medical insurance benefits are billed if you are seeing us with a medical eye condition such as diabetes, glaucoma, cataract, dry eye, contact lens complications, irritated eyes, headaches, etc. Our office is required to follow proper coding and billing guidelines, and will submit charges for these conditions to your medical insurance since vision plans do not cover medical eye visits or testing. We cannot always determine which plan (vision or medical) should be billed until the examination is complete. Services and testing we provide for eye health conditions may be subject to additional copays or deductibles as directed by your medical insurance plan.

Contact Lens Services

To properly evaluate your vision, fit, and eye health from contact lens wear, additional tests and expertise are needed beyond the routine eye exam. There is a $55 contact lens evaluation fee to update an existing contact lens prescription. Other fees for changing materials, designs, or fitting new wearers with contact lenses will be discussed with you as needed.

We are excited to introduce a new technology, called the Optomap, which is used as part of your eye health exam to take a digital image of the back of your eye. In just seconds it will help evaluate the health of your retina, and detect many eye diseases such as diabetes, glaucoma, macular degeneration, retinal detachments and even eye cancers; many of which often start without any symptoms but can lead to vision loss.

We strongly believe that the Optomap[®] Retinal Exam is an essential part of your comprehensive eye exam and prescribe it for all patients each year because:

- It allows for an enlarged image to see a more detailed view of the retina in just seconds
- Allows for future comparisons--we can accurately compare each year's image side by side
- Can be reviewed by other doctors, if necessary
- It may take the place of dilation in many patients, so you leave the office with vision intact, rather than with light-sensitivity and blur

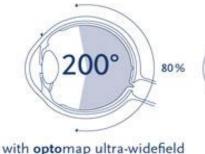

The Optomap screening comes with a fee of $35 and your Doctor will review the images with you during your exam today.

I agree to my Doctor preferred annual Optomap image today for $35
